

Thank You to the 52 Figge Visitors Who Helped Me Paint on this Painting

A major part of this project is the help I receive from people in the community and my friends and family. I owe a lot to everyone who helped me out by painting on this painting, here at the Figge Art Museum, the week of June 29th - July 4th. The number of people willing to help me paint was very inspiring and uplifting. I am really proud to have such great thoughtful friends. Thank you to the Quad Cities community and the Figge Art Museum. Along with really enjoying getting to know the Figge visitors and having great company while I paint I loved the experience of working in this wonderful museum. Thank you for giving me the opportunity to do this. Everyone did a great job painting.

I really appreciate the open-mindedness the people listed below had in my project. I am forever grateful for their friendship.

~Andrew D. Moeller

P.S. Special thanks to Mel Piff who came to the Figge everyday for six straight days to paint with me.
